

ROBATECH GROUP: YVES OTTIGER NEW CEO

Effective January 1, 2025, Yves Ottiger is assuming operational leadership of the Robatech Group as its new CEO. He succeeds Martin Meier, who has led the company since 2018 and is going to continue to serve the Robatech Group in an advisory role.

Yves Ottiger brings extensive experience in strategic business management, product and market development. Since April 2024, he has been leading the Strategic Marketing & Innovation department at Robatech. Marcel Meyer, Chairman of the Board, expresses satisfaction with the leadership transition: "Yves has proven to be a real asset to our company in this short time. With his experience, strategic approach to developing new business models and products, and his close connection to the market, to our customers and employees, he will surely lead Robatech into a successful future."

Seamless transition

The handover to Yves Ottiger will be gradual and conducted in close collaboration with the outgoing CEO Martin Meier, according to Marcel Meyer. Yves Ottiger is well-acquainted with the organization, has already made significant contributions, and is ready to take over leadership seamlessly. "I look forward to shaping the future of Robatech with the teams and providing world-class solutions to our customers worldwide," adds Ottiger.

Robatech thanks Martin Meier for his dedicated and successful work as CEO and wishes Yves Ottiger a successful start in his new role.
